NATURAL CAPITAL, ECOSYSTEM SERVICES, AND ENVIRONMENTAL ACCOUNTING (NESEA)

The Working Group (NESEA) was started in 2018 to promote education and research on natural capital, ecosystem services, and environmental accounting.

Main goals:

Promote the interaction among members of the Society through the organization of seminars, workshops, and conferences in this field of ecological sciences.

Foster the development and implementation of interdisciplinary research projects exploring human-nature interactions, with particular reference to the key role played by natural capital and ecosystem services in supporting human well-being.

Support local managers and policy makers committed to develop sustainable strategies and solutions according to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Recent activities:

1° National Workshop

“Natural Capital, Ecosystem Services, and Environmental Accounting”
